

Historic Fountain Aids Campus Beautification

Maryville's granite horse watering fountain of yesteryear has become a new center of beauty east of the Administration Building.

In early days, the Humane Society installed the red granite watering places on the northeast corner of the city square. A plaque on the fountain bears the legend: "1911—Presented by The National Humane Alliance, Hermon Lee Ensign, founder."

Later, the lion heads were broken and had to be recast. The fountain was moved to the Fourth and Dunn Streets miniature triangular park leading to the College Drive. In more recent years, it was removed from the park and stored.

Members of the art department recast some broken parts after the college decided to move it to the circle drive east of the Administration Building.

Fun Planned for Ag Horse Show

Milking cows and playing musical chairs are to be part of the excitement at the fourth annual Agriculture Club Horse Show to be held Sept. 27 at the Ag Club Arena.

The campus arena is located at Country Club Corner, one-half mile north of Highway 46. The show, co-sponsored by area merchants, is expected to be interesting and enjoyable for both participants and spectators.

Chairmen Schedule

Homecoming Planner

The first general meeting of the Homecoming committee will be at 4 p. m. Tuesday in Room 108, Colder Hall.

All organizations on campus are asked to have a representative attend if they are interested in participating in 1970 Homecoming festivities, Nov. 4-7.

—Dick Johnson and Phyllis Hardy

Goat dressing, diaper racing, musical chairs, and wild cow milking are just a few of the 14 classes open for competition.

The events are open to all horse enthusiasts including members of adult and junior horse clubs, with trophies going to the "best dressed club," "largest club," "club farthest from home," and "highpoint individual."

The goat dressing display will be open to all women's campus and non-campus organizations. All men's campus and non-campus clubs may compete in the wild cow milking. Calf roping and the crowning of the 1970 queen also figure highly in plans for the festivities.

Refreshment stands will be provided on the grounds. Admission for students is 25 cents, with profits going to the Ag Club.

For more information, those interested should contact Ag Club president, David Lock, its sponsors, Mr. F. B. Houghton or Dr. Don Shelby, in the agriculture department, or Dr. Richard Quinn, psychology department.

Senate to Hold Football Rally

The Student Senate will sponsor a pep rally Thursday, beginning at 9:30 p. m. at the Fine Arts Building and proceeding through campus.

The coaches will be present to introduce the football players, the cheerleaders will lead cheers, and all students are invited to participate. The slogan for this year's football season is "Green Is Mean."

All Bearcat fans are urged to wear something green to the first game, which will be held Sept. 19 in Rickenbrode Stadium.

Exhibits Offer Opportunities For Contemplation, Learning

Original prints, line drawings, and photographic panels are among the exhibitions on display at MSC this fall.

An exhibition of original prints sponsored by the Missouri State Council on the Arts is currently being shown in Wells Library through Sept. 18. Mr. Richard Gibbs, Mr. Thomas Coleman, and Mr. James Broderick are the exhibiting artists.

Artists Show Prints

At present, Mr. Gibbs is on the art faculty of Kansas State University, Manhattan, where he teaches classes in drawing and design. He has exhibited widely in both regional and national shows. In 1965 the Des Moines Art Center awarded him first prize in Drawings and Prints in its All Iowa Annual Art Show.

Directing the printmaking area of the department of art at the University of Nebraska, Mr. Coleman is the recipient of 39 purchase and honorable mention awards in over 100 national, international, and regional exhibitions. His work is also included in the permanent collections of more than 20 museums.

Serving as MSC's gallery director and as an assistant professor of art, Mr. Broderick has had five one-man shows and has exhibited extensively in regional and national shows. For four consecutive years his works have been included in the Dixie Annual Exhibitions which originate in the Montgomery Gallery of Fine Arts, Montgomery, Ala.

On display in the Olive DeLuce Fine Arts Building are line drawings by artists presently associated with the San Francisco Art Institute. This collection of 50 drawings presents a survey of the many directions which can be explored within the confines of lines. Artists represented in the exhibition are Jerrold Ballaine, Robert Combs, Jacques Levy, Phil Linhares, Fred Martin, Jack McIntosh, and Norman Stieglmeyer.

Also currently on display through Oct. 3 in the DeLuce Building is a circulating exhibition entitled "Le Corbusier." This study of the French architect Charles Jeanneret-Gris includes 34 photographic panels containing 170 documents. The exhibition is on loan from the Cultural Division of the French Embassy.

THE STROLLER

Two weeks of classes have passed. Welcome, remaining freshmen.

For those of you who aren't acquainted with me, let me introduce myself. I am the Stroller. For more than 40 years I have strolled through this growing campus gathering bits of information to amuse or enlighten the students and faculty. All this walking can really give an informative view of the campus, but through rain, and snow, and the dark of night, as well as through the pond, I have kept my tired feet dry and very little, if any, mud has found its way into this column.

Has anybody noticed the speed bumps that are strategically placed on the college drive? You know, the ones like the one on which the big German Shepherd got high centered the other day? If you think they're fun now, just wait until it snows this winter. You readers can ski, can't you?

Seriously, the bumps do seem to be higher than is necessary or even safe. I believe that one of our deans can vouch for this as he did misplace his oil pan while hurdling one of the ridges. He was instrumental in the placing of these log-like obstacles, which were made twice as high as he specified. He has started plans to get them cut down to size.

For all the people who believe Dr. Robert Foster is having a swimming pool built in his front yard, I have a piece of information. This is no pool, but it is, in reality, a new circular driveway which will enable people to turn around before pulling into the street instead of backing into it and endangering their lives.

At times my energetic ambulation brings into focus facts that prove faculty members are human—or nearly so. Take, for example, the latest rumor that is being blown through the campus grapevine. This rumor concerns the Faculty Club, an organization for all faculty members—if they pay their dues.

I have recently heard complaints that some people are using the club's facilities without bothering to pay their dues. This is obviously an unintentional mistake on the part of the offenders. A problem such as this is common though. Just look at the UN and its troubles with Russia.

Although walking is my main pastime, I am well aware of the importance of the car when it comes to traveling long-distances—two blocks or more for some people.

By being aware of cars, I find that I am now aware of a problem for these vehicles. Where is all the parking space necessary for the multitude of internal combustion contraptions that descend on the campus in increasing numbers every year?

We are not only lacking on-campus parking lots, but places in which to park off-campus are also becoming scarce. Very few persons are crazy enough to want to walk a mile to the campus after they have already driven 30 or 40 miles, yet this is a problem that many commuters encounter if they haven't paid for a parking sticker for an on-campus lot before the semester begins.

Naturally the problem would be solved if everybody got a sticker in advance and let the stragglers who live a few blocks from the campus walk to class, but many of the people who commute do so because they want to save money and they may put off buying the sticker in advance because of a shortage of funds. Parking Lot 8 has been enlarged for the people who live in the dorms.

Can a similar expansion be made for the commuter?

During the first week of classes, there are always a few mix-ups in rooms but this is quickly straightened out. Some instructors, however, do forget to inform the right people about some of the room changes made, and as a result, the only way for a student to find the correct room is to hunt up the instructor or stick his head in each room and ask the name of the class.

Gamma Sigma Sigma Prepares for Fall

Gamma Sigma Sigma, women's service sorority, is already busy serving MSC this fall.

The coeds assisted the Advisement Center with fall registration activities and also held a bake sale in the women's dormitories to raise funds for their service projects. They will start work soon on the student directories, which consist of student and faculty addresses and phone numbers. The directories will be on sale early this fall.

Anyone interested in joining the organization or receiving help in a service project should contact Terry Norris in Perrin Hall or Venita Scholl in Hudson Hall.

Students Like City's Welcome

A portion of the 3,000 guests takes time for refreshments at the popular Night-on-the-Town dance Sept. 4.

The city of Maryville extended its welcome to MSC students Sept. 4 with a greatly appreciated Night-on-the-Town dance on the city square.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the mini rock festival drew an estimated 3,000 students and city residents. Mrs. Inez Bowman, representing the Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the crowd and urged the students to make Maryville their "other home."

The evening featured music by the Stonehenge and free soft drinks by the C of C.

One student summed up the event this way—"There should be one of these every week!"

'Coogan's Bluff' For Den Movie

Fast paced, violent excitement is the chief ingredient of Sept. 20's den movie feature, "Coogan's Bluff."

Clint Eastwood stars as a hard hitting deputy of the modern West, who is called to New York on special assignment to track down a ruthless killer. His adventures there make for an excitement-filled evening of entertainment, which fun seekers won't want to miss.

This feature is just one of the many to be presented this year by the Union Board, under the direction of Mr. Marvin Silliman. Upcoming features are "Patch of Blue," Sept. 27; "The Graduate," Oct. 2; "John and Mary," Oct. 11; and "Good-by Columbus," Oct. 18.

This year's den movies will be shown twice each Saturday night, the first showing at 6:30 o'clock and the second beginning at 9. A $.25 admission fee is payable at the door of Horace Mann Auditorium, where the films will be shown.

Financial Aid Office Report

Students seeking employment should check the Financial Aid Bulletin Board on the first floor of the Administration Building for job opportunities.

The College Radio Station will carry spot announcements at 9 a. m. and at 1 p. m. each day describing job opportunities which are available.

Students who still need financial assistance for the fall semester should stop at the Office of Student Financial Aid for information and help in securing such assistance.

Students who have work-study employment awards and who have not secured employment should contact Mr. Max Fuller, director of Student Financial Aid, for help in finding a job.

All Marching Band students who have been awarded scholarships should pick up their checks at the Office of Student Financial Aid on Sept. 24 or 25.

Short-term loans (maximum $30) are available at the Financial Aid Office, to help with student emergency financial problems. Although loans are interest free, they must be repaid during the semester in which the money is borrowed. It takes approximately one day for processing of these loans.

Women May Test Out Of Some P.E. Courses

In October, an opportunity will be given to women students to test out of a physical education activity class for activity credit. A student may earn two activity credits through the test-out program.

In each activity, a written and a skill test will be required with a minimum grade of "C" in each. The written test will be given a week prior to the skill test. A student receiving a "C" grade or better will be eligible to participate in the skill test.

Seven of the more popular physical education activities will be included in the Pilot Program: badminton, basketball, golf, social dance, swimming, tennis, and volleyball. "If the program proves successful, more activities may be added later," Miss Bonnie Magill, chairman of the women's physical education department, said.

A student will be required to sign up for the activity in which she wishes to establish credit through testing. In this Pilot Test-Out Program, a student may not qualify in an activity for which she has already received credit.

New Director, Band Prepare For Their Initial Appearance

MSC's marching band will present a Circus for its first public appearance, Sept. 19, under the direction of a new leader, Mr. Henry Howey.

The circus theme will feature pinwheels and other related formations. Tunes that will be presented include "Man on the Flying Trapeze," "Thunder and Blazes" and other popular circus numbers.

Mr. Howey, recipient of the highly coveted AA Harding music award, commented on the smaller size of this year's band, which has approximately 80 members. "There are acoustically speaking, it would take approximately 400 more people to have a 25 per cent increase in sound and 800 more to have a 50 per cent increase."

Mr. Howey further emphasized that the size is not as important as the sound and the performance of the band. "We are stressing precision and accuracy," he states. "Our routine for the first show will be the same basic movements used last year and we'll add to them."

Played With Army Band

Although this is Mr. Howey's first teaching assignment, his past experience of note is his service in the United States Army Band in Washington, D. C., where he also played with the Herald trumpets in the White House. "This required a rigid security clearance," Mr. Howey said.

The new director received his bachelor and master of music degrees from the University of Illinois, graduating with highest honors. He expects to attain the Doctor of Music Arts degree from the University of Iowa in January.

Musicianship Stressed

Selection of MSC band members is based mainly on ability to play, according to Mr. Howey, who added, "We are using as substitutes experienced people who will be student teaching part of the semester."

Originally from Pittsfield, Ill., Mr. Howey is a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, Pi Kappa Lambda, music fraternities, and Phi Kappa Phi honorary fraternity.

Miss Jackson Urges Students to Welcome MSC Foreign Students

Miss Mary Jackson, assistant professor of foreign language, has been appointed adviser to foreign students on campus.

With a total of 40 foreign students enrolled here, more than ever before, Miss Jackson urges cultural exchange and points out the opportunity "to broaden our perspectives and concepts."

The new adviser urges students, both individuals and groups, to make an effort to befriend these newcomers, who are faced with a completely new cultural environment.

Miss Jackson succeeds Mr. Richard Landes, who is on leave studying on his doctorate in organic chemistry at Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kan.

Recreational Plans Set up for Students

A new trend in the recreational department for men has already started.

Each Monday through Friday, 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., Saturday, 1 to 9:30 p. m., and beginning Sunday Oct. 18, from 2 to 5 p. m., Lamkin Gymnasium will be open for use. The track room, weight room, steam room, handball room and showers will be available for student use.

Martindale gymnasium will be open Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. for women's activities. Gymnastics, swimming, table tennis, and trampoline are available activities. A student ID is needed to check out equipment.

Located near the new cafeteria are four handball courts, six tennis courts, and two softball backstops. The tennis courts are not yet finished, but faculty and students may check out equipment for these other activities at Phillips or Franken residence halls.

Students Approve Book Checkout

"A harrassing task simplified to perfection" is the description one student gave in complimenting the book packet checkout system put into operation during registration this year.

"We walked up, handed our cards to an attendant, and in a few seconds we had our textbooks and were on our way," the coed reported.

Elizabeth Mowry, assistant in the distribution section, is shown picking up an enrollee's packet.

Student Senators Confirm Election

Senate action last week involved Leonard Lenihan's qualifications for the position of vice president of the student body.

Alan Wagner, a contender for vice president in the last election, was present to question Vice President Leonard Lenihan's qualifications.

Wagner's argument was based on the amendment to the constitution, stating a student must receive a 2.00 GPA from MSC to run for election and hold office.

Lenihan confirmed his qualifications declaring, "At the time of election, I looked up the needed qualification, issued my petition, and was allowed to run. A week after election the amendment was passed by the Senate clarifying that transfer grades are not included. I believe the rule is good but cannot be applied to my situation."

Wagner expressed the ruling should have ex post facto effect since the amendment deals with holding an office.

After favorable discussion towards Lenihan's view, Pete Bataillon moved that the amendment be applied to next year. The Senate was in total agreement, 15 to 0, and Lenihan maintained his position as vice president.

Lenihan Stands Trial

Tuesday evening at the next meeting, however, the topic of Lenihan's qualifications was brought forth again.

President Jim Oliver said he misinformed the Senators, and the new ruling, stating a student must receive a 2.00 GPA from MSC to run for election or hold office, was passed a week before the election.

Lenihan was faced with pressure this time since the meeting was comprised of more Senators, some of whom backed the argument presented by Wagner.

Gina Castellucio challenged Lenihan: "The ruling we are discussing includes receiving a 2.00 GPA for the entire term. If you do not have a 2.00 during the entire term, I do not see how you can feel qualified. The ruling was made at election time, and naturally we can assume it takes effect immediately."

Argument Continues
Stanley Barton asserted,

"You do not have a 2.00 GPA from MSC at this time, right Mr. Lenihan? Grades have come out twice since election. You also went to summer school and still did not receive a 2.0; therefore, you do not have the 2.00 to take office."

"Petitions were entered, nominations made, and the election was underway, Lenihan replied. "It seems to me that a ruling made seven days before election cannot take effect at that election"

Vic Jenkins added, "The Senate passed this ruling merely for clarification and made an exception for Mr. Lenihan."

Paula Moyer sympathized with Lenihan, pointing out the time he devoted at election and since. Miss Moyer said it was not right to say he was not qualified now.

Senator Owen Kerber moved the discussion be dropped. A majority of the Senators agreed, and Lenihan was again victorious.

A suggestion box is located in front of the Student Senate office for any recommendations or complaints.

The election board will set up for freshman elections and an election for a senator from College Park Court.

Impressive Kearney State Team To Give Initial Test to Bearcats

Big, fast, and impressive are the words that best describe MSC's home opening (Sept. 19) football opponent, Kearney State College, Kearney, Neb.

The 'Cats, hopeful of revenging a 10-0 defeat suffered a year ago on Antelope turf, will have their hands full against perhaps their toughest opponent of the season.

The Antelopes, under the direction of Coach Allen H. Zikmund, hope to improve on last year's record of 5-3-1. Reason for optimism is the return of more than 30 lettermen, including the starting backfield on offense, all linebackers and deep men on defense.

Replacements Sought

Coach Zikmund feels the key to Kearney's season this year will be whether it has the ability to replace the whole 1969 offensive line, which was lost through graduation. The head mentor is hopeful of finding adequate replacements from his 15 juniors and 18 sophomores who saw considerable action in the 1969 campaign.

On the defensive side, Zikmund has been quite pleased during pre-season practice sessions. He feels the defense will have to carry the Antelope attack early in the season, while the young offensive line matures and gains experience.

Among the 30 lettermen returning this year, the coaching staff feels it has four players who could capture All-American honors. They are Jim Zikmund, John Makovicka, Dan Abernathy, and Leonard Woods.

Coach's Son Stars

Zikmund, the coach's son, doubles in his duties at quarterback and deep safety. At 6-3, 200 lb., he is considered a strong threat as a roll-out passer.

Makovicka was the club's leading ground gainer last year at his fullback position. He is a big tough runner who Coach Zikmund feels can pick up that big yard when the team really needs it.

Abernathy and Woods, who anchor a solid defensive secondary at their linebacker positions, are considered top-notch defensive specialists by their coaching staff. Coach Zikmund believes Woods, who has been nicknamed "animal" by his teammates, is one of the fiercest linebackers he has ever coached.

Impressive Coaching Record

Coach Zikmund, a 1969 inductee into the NAIA Helms Football Hall of Fame, has a record of 108-27-2 in 15 seasons as head mentor at Kearney State. Included are four undefeated seasons — 1956, 1958, 1963, and 1967. His squads also own nine conference championships. His teams have been nationally ranked by NAIA for several years.

"I think the team will be improved over last fall's, but the schedule is more demanding so the record could remain about the same this year," the Kearney coach commented.

Only once in his 15 years at Kearney has he had a losing season, and he does not want to have to add to his team's loss record this year.

Coach Ivan Schottel Pleased With Junior Team Prospects

"We feel positive that this year's recruiting has produced the best results of any recruiting year since we came here in 1964." Those are the happy words of head football mentor, Ivan Schottel.

He has a right to be happy. The recruiting job has brought so many high school All-Staters and junior college transfers that the coaching staff will find it a difficult task to weed out those players suited for varsity action and those selected for junior varsity duty.

Among those rookies who have gained prep All-State honors are Don Sable, a 5'-11" 175 lb. quarterback from Riverview, Mich.; Jim Zepp, 6'-2" 220 lb. halfback from Pennsylvania, Pa., and Denny Hansen, a 6'-1" 210 lb. end who prepped in Atchison, Kan.

Center Randy Von Weihe, a 6'-3" 205 lb. All-State center from Treynor, Iowa, is another promising recruit as is Alan Schooler, a 5'-11" 220 lb. guard who gained All-State laurels at Princeton, Mo.

Junior college transfer Bill Post, 6'-0" 200 lb. from Fort Dodge, Iowa, should also help at guard.

The Junior Bearcats will open a five game slate at home Sept. 21 against Tarkio College. The schedule follows:

Sept. 21—
Tarkio College Maryville
Oct. 5—
Central Mo. State Maryville
Oct. 12—
Centerville J C (Iowa), Maryville
Oct. 19—
Peru State Peru, Neb.
Oct. 26—
William Jewell Liberty
All games will begin at 7 p.m.

Intramurals to Begin

Intramural director Larry McCarty has announced football and tennis (singles and doubles) will begin. All participants are urged to keep a look out for schedules.

McCarty also said copies of the revised rule book for football may be picked up in the physical education office in Lamkin Gymnasium.

Gymnastics Team Begins Practice

The women's gymnastic team has begun practice under the direction of Miss Sandra Mull.

The team will practice from 6:30 p. m. to 8:30 p. m. each Monday, and from 4:45 p. m. to 6:30 p. m., Tuesday through Thursday.

Anyone interested is welcome to participate. Experience is helpful but not necessary.

Miss Mull stated that those interested should attend practice in the Martindale Gymnasium.

Tennis Meeting Set

Coach John Byrd urges all interested persons to attend the organizational meeting for the 1970-1971 Bearcat tennis team. The meeting will be held at 4 p. m. Monday in Lamkin Gymnasium classroom.

Pre-Season Prognosis

By Walt Yadusky

It was picture taking day. As could be expected, it was also hot. Very hot. In fact, I am beginning to note a definite correlation between hot days and football pictures — somewhat akin to picnics and ants.

On the field the Bearcats were decked out in their game uniforms, grumbling about having to take time out and get suited up for all the necessary rigamarole that picture taking day involves. Up on top of a ladder, looking none too sturdy as it swayed precariously on the grass just off the track, sat the photographer, Orville Heywood, who was lining up the shot.

On the ground, Bob Henry, sports information director, was arranging the team with all the aplomb of Cecil B. DeMille directing the train station scene of "Gone With The Wind." "Okay, Ivan, move over a little to the right," Coach Schottel slid over about four feet to the right. Mr. Henry was so pleased with the way Coach Schottel looked a mere four feet over to the right that without hesitation, he directed the whole team four feet over to the right.

Back up on top of the precarious ladder, Mr. Heywood waited with the patience of a saint. It was not hard to tell that he was used to this. Besides, getting impatient only makes you hotter.

Finally, everyone was in position. All heads were raised facing the camera, each person assuming what was probably the same facial expression used last year for the group picture. This logically explains the phenomenon of why group sports pictures look exactly alike from year to year.

As the camera clicked the band which had marched onto the practice field just beyond the fence, struck up "On Wisconsin" in preparation for the opener. The ordeal over with, the capable publicity team of Henry and Heywood made its way to the far side of the field in readiness for individual and home town group shots.

Dodging the cross country team which seemed to have come from nowhere, I bobbed up the freshly painted bleachers toward Coach Schottel.

Offensive Line-up

With the home opener only a week away this looks to be the probable starting offensive line-up, Coach Schottel informed me.

At quarterback, senior Joe Calia (6-0, 190) will call the signals. Calia is a good scrambler and adept ball handler. Experience and poise should insure a higher completion average for him this year. If Calia is injured, Curtis Priest, also a good passer, will take over. Calia will have plenty of talent at the receiving end of his passes with the healthy return of veterans Dave Hansen, Bob Endy, and Steve McCluskey.

Hansen, (6-1, 190), led the club in pass reception last year with 19 receptions for 378 yards and five touchdowns; recovering from a spike wound, he'll be at the right-end position. At split end will be Endy (6-0, 190), who possesses fine speed and a gifted pair of hands. McCluskey (6-1, 190) is a triple threat as he runs well from his halfback slot in addition to being able to throw the option pass or be on the receiving end.

Backing up these men are Bob Belcher, (6-2, 180), Joe Bowser (6-0, 160), and Mike Harpin (6-0, 190), who should lend needed aggressive bench strength. Should Hansen's leg trouble him, Belcher will start against Kearney.

Steve Schottel (6-2, 200) has been moved to the tailback slot, where his backfield knowledge and powerful running ability will do a lot of good. Backing Schottel is Steve Grant (6-1, 190), who should gain experience for a possible starting berth next season. Rounding out the offensive backfield is Gary Hawkins (6-1, 198), a three-year letterman who is quick off the snap and also a fine blocker. Behind Hawkins will be Jack Ryser (5-10, 180).

Run to Daylight

Providing the daylight up front is a formidable and experienced line. Joe Bosse (6-3, 225) will start at right tackle. The left tackle position will be anchored down by Bruce Johnson (6-5, 230). Both Bosse and Johnson are capable of opening gaping holes in a seemingly strong defensive line. Verle Clines, and Ken Wills are in reserve at the tackle position.

At left guard Derrick McCord (6-0, 210), is back and healthy, McCord, a former High School All-American, is quick, agile, and mean. The right guard position will be maintained by Ken Blar (6-2, 230), a really aggressive man who plays his slot well. Reserve guards will be Wayne Steinmeir and Bob Whitman, both of whom have varsity experience.

Dave Wollbrinck, (6-1, 220), who oddly enough answers to the nick-name "Pee Wee," despite his husky size, will center the snap. With Wollbrinck at center, Calia needn't worry too much about getting the play off. Should Wollbrinck be injured, Pete Bataillon (6-1, 205), will keep the center position stable.

With the return of experienced personnel at every offensive position, and a first string of recruits, the chances of a high scoring season looms strongly. . . on paper at least. The team has a rendezvous with concrete proof on Sept. 19.

What'ya say, Bearcats? Will the proof be there, or will your coach have to say for you, "If only. . ." As I remember it correctly, a ballplayer named Jerry Mays had something to say about "If and Maybe" people. It wasn't too complimentary. Try to think of what it was. . . THINK HARD.
